It works well, but unfortunately there is no option for passing the time as milliseconds. I would have no problem with setting the date like this: const d = new Date(); d.setYear(2015); d.setMonth(8); d.setDate(12); d.setHours(17); d.setMinutes(13); d.setSeconds(23); d.setMilliseconds(0); But I have no idea how to pass milliseconds as year. This is how I use the class, without having any problems: const d = new Date(); d.setTimezone(2); d.setFullYear(2015); d.setMonth(9); d.setDate(12); d.setHours(17); d.setMinutes(13); d.setSeconds(23); d.setMilliseconds(0);
