Download Dead Island 1.3:.1. Field of the Invention The present invention relates to a method of manufacturing a light guide plate. 2. Description of Related Art Because of the advantages of long life, energy saving and environmental protection, light-emitting diode (LED) is widely applied in the fields of the illumination and the display, such as traffic signal, backlight module, flat display, etc. Presently, most of light-emitting modules comprise a light guide plate and an LED light source. In the light guide plate, a light output surface is formed in a concave or flat surface, and light emitted from the LED light source is incident into the light guide plate via the light output surface. In order to obtain light-emitting efficacy, a mixture can be made in the concave or flat surface, so that the light guide plate can diffuse the light emitted from the LED light source. Since the light guide plate can guide the emitted light to a light-emitting surface in the light-emitting module, the light-emitting efficiency can be improved. When manufacturing the light guide plate, a glue can be applied to a mold of the light guide plate and the mixture is then poured into the mold. During the molding process, air is inevitably separated from the mixture, thereby resulting in a warp of the light guide plate. In order to prevent the light guide plate from being warped, the light guide plate is usually spun at a high speed during the manufacturing process, so as to force the separation of air to cause the mixture to diffuse and expand outwardly. However, in the manufacturing process, air is always separated from the mixture and the light guide plate is deformed due to the spinning effect of the high-speed rotation. Therefore, a method of manufacturing a light guide plate with no spin effect is desired to solve the above-mentioned problems.1. Field of the Invention The present invention relates to a method and a system for handling multiple services in a dynamic network environment. 2. Description of the Prior Art In the past, an expert system has been used to make diagnosis of problems that arise in a network. Such systems cannot be used for diagnosis of new problems which may not have been encountered before or that
